

Engineering Professional Development Student Organization Funding Application

Purpose

The College of Engineering is invested in creating opportunities for students to further develop their leadership skills and to foster networking opportunities for lifelong professional development. In turn, student organizations are empowered to maximize their impact around the college, the university, and the community and become more engaged and committed student leaders.

We encourage students to be an “Engineer and something more...” and pursue interests in areas outside of engineering to develop the transferable skills our employer partners deem critical. Through this thought, funds are available through Engineering Professional Development for professional development related activities to support such opportunities for College of Engineering recognized student organizations.

To apply for funding, review the eligibility requirements below, and fill out the attached application.

Eligibility and Criteria:

Professional Development funds are available only to students on behalf of an engineering recognized student organization for networking and professional development purposes. A list of recognized Engineering Student Organization can be found on the College of Engineering web site.

Examples could include (but are not limited to) hosting or traveling to a regional or national conference or competition, bringing in speakers or panelists, coordinating a site tour, etc. Each organization is limited to one funding award each academic year. Funding requests could include helping with travel costs, registration fees, catering and room reservations, etc.

Please fill out the application and email to Kelli Delfosse, Director of Professional Development, at kelli-delfosse@uiowa.edu or drop off to 3612 Seamans Center for funding consideration. Funding is not guaranteed and only partial requests may be approved.
